OUTCOMES OF DEMOCRACY

SUBJECT POLITICAL SCIENCE CLASS X

TERM II

Q.1.Why is democracy considered a better form of govt.?

A.a)It promotes equality among students.

b)Democracy enhances the dignity of individuals.

c)Democracy allows us to correct our mistakes. d)It improves the quality of decision making.

Q.2.What should democracy provide?

A.2 a)People should have the right to choose their rulers and have control over them.

b)Citizens should be able to participate in decision-making that affects them all.

c)The government should be termed accountable to the citizens and responsive to the needs and expectations of the citizens.

Q.3.Is a non democratic government efficient?

A. Non-democratic rulers do not have to bother about decisions, majority and public opinion. So they are able to have quick and efficient decision. However, democracy is based on idea of deliberation and negotiation and so some delay is bound to take place. A democratic govt. takes more time to follow procedures before arriving at a decision. Its decisions are both more acceptable and more efficient to the people.

Q.4.How does democracy produce an accountable responsive and legitimate govt.?

A.4.Democracy is an accountable form of govt. as all the citizens have the right to choose their rulers and control over them. If the govt. does not function, then the people can vote out the govt. in next elections. Whenever possible the citizens are able to participate in decision making through formation of public opinion. Thus, the govt. follows procedures and is accountable to its people. In a democracy, we have regular ,free and fair elections and conditions for open debates. We have a responsible govt. which cares about the opinions, needs and aspirations of people. Democracy has a legitimate govt. as it is elected by the people through elections. The elected govt. works in accordance with the constitution of India.

Q.5.Have democracies promoted economic growth and development?

A.If we consider all democracies and dictatorships in 50 years between 1950 and 2000, we find that dictatorship have a slightly higher rate of economic

It's a great way to test the service without committing to it. FTP If you're more tech-savvy than most, FTP clients are always an option. I have documents stored in Box. And I have videos stored on YouTube. It offers a free and easy way to make sure you always have a backup of your precious online data. Subfolders for each of your connected services will automatically be created there, too. If you need to transfer files between 15 and 20GB, you can likely use a free service, but larger than that will require a payment. The company says that it does not change the resolution of photos when they're downloaded, but that it relies on the API of the social site itself. For instance, the free version of Google Drive only provides 15GB of storage (which is a lot for a free service) while the free version of Dropbox gives users a comparatively lacking 2GB of storage. If you need to transfer a huge file of more than 15GB (like an edited video file, for example) then neither one of these services will cut it. Here are a few tricks for reducing the size of huge files that will make them easier to transfer and save you a lot of hassle—without sacrificing the quality of the file itself. Subscriptions are available in both monthly and yearly plans, but if you want to save money, go for the annual payment—it shaves off a few bucks overall. Masv Masv is the go-to service for people that need to transfer tremendously large files online. Then you head to socialfolders.me, where you create an account and start connecting your social services. I could go to each site and download all of my files until I've amassed an offline collection of my stuff. I did notice that some of the photos that SocialFolders downloaded for me looked to be slightly lower res than they appeared when viewed on Facebook, though. Comparative and Historical Data Files: Our Donors This report was made possible by the generous support of Google, Inc., the Hurford Foundation, Jyllands-Posten Foundation, Lilly Endowment Inc., Meta Platforms, Inc., and the National Endowment for Democracy. Paid services also tend to have higher transfer rates and higher storage capacities. There is no right or wrong answer. Minor issue with photo resolution aside, I was quite impressed with SocialFolders. SocialFolders does more than just create a backup of your files. A paid service does offer a few benefits that might appeal to you, especially if you want to keep things simple. On the other hand, TIF is a "lossless" format that doesn't result in artifacting—but the files won't be as small as JPG files. While there are times when you can't avoid high-resolution files, if it isn't strictly necessary then using a smaller file type might be an option. For example, JPG is such a popular format because it compresses the data to an extreme extent. Let's face it: the true 1% are those that paid for WinRAR. You can also compress data in macOS by selecting it, right clicking, and choosing Compress. Split Files Into Smaller Sections If you are transferring an unfinished file to an editor, ask if you can send the files in pieces. Services like Dropbox and Google Drive make it easy to store and share files across the web, but they have limitations. If you have the free plan, there's a maximum upload size of 20GB, but this restriction goes away with one of the paid options. MediaFire has apps on a variety of devices, so you can transfer large files online from your mobile devices as well as from a laptop. pCloud pCloud is a cloud storage service that has a dedicated file transfer system. For example, SocialFolders uses Facebook's default upload API, which can reduce photo resolution. It's a popular service among video editors and freelancers because of the ability to move files larger than 20GB. If you want to find out more, we have a dedicated FTP article you should look into. How To Make Transferring Files Easier Many people make the mistake of sending files in their raw formats, but that only makes the task more difficult. pCloud offers a free trial so you can test out the service, but you will need to subscribe to continue using the service after this trial. Paid Versus Free Services In the modern world, there are a huge number of services that allow you to transfer even gargantuan files for free. While that might seem pricey, it actually helps cut down on wasteful spending because you are only paying for what you actually use. If you want to try out Masv, there is a seven-day free trial that gives you 100GB of free data transfers. If you have fast internet, you can upload large files quickly without artificial bottlenecks placed by the service to conserve bandwidth. pCloud also provides multiple features that make it even more appealing, like the ability to spread your files across multiple services to keep them safe. You simply create a folder in the SocialFolders directory on your desktop, and its contents will be automatically synced to your account. (The free version of SocialFolders limits you to three services and 2,000 files; a Premium account, which costs $10 per year, is unlimited.) SocialFolders organizes your Facebook photos into folders that correspond with your album names, and photo titles that correspond to your captions.Once you've connected SocialFolders to your social services, icons for each of them will appear in the SocialFolders folder that's been created on your computer. File Transfer Protocol is the old-school way of moving data around, but these days it is more focused on the business side of things. I found this a very handy way to grab photos of my nieces and nephews that my siblings share on Facebook. There isn't much call for casual FTP use, which means the available options can be a bit on the complicated side. –Liane Cassavoy Since 1973, Freedom House has assessed the condition of political rights and civil liberties around the world. It is used on a regular basis by policymakers, journalists, academics, activists, and many others. We have combined the numbers from all the years the index has been published, into this online spreadsheet , which you can also download as Excel file. Check The File Type Some file types are significantly larger than others due to resolution and quality. The nine-month program employs Junior Fellows in core research positions to contribute to this report, and equips them with a range of marketable skills that can propel them on to successful careers. That said, it's a fantastic option. I have spreadsheets stored in Google Docs. You will pay per gigabyte of data. We've also covered WeTransfer, a dedicated way of moving big files. MediaFire MediaFire is a cloud storage system that offers up to 50GB of free storage, with 1 TB of storage coming in at just $3.75 per month. The Freedom in the World Junior Fellowship program is generously underwritten by the Merrill Family Foundation, with support from the Panter Foundation. Which is great–until I want access to these files when I'm offline. We have covered some other services already, as well as some for sending large videos. You will need to make sure you have the storage to spare, though, as some of these files could takeup plenty of disk space. The Junior Fellows contributing to Freedom in the World 2022 include: Matthew Barak, Junior Fellow for Europe and Eurasia Alex Dent, Junior Fellow for sub-Saharan Africa Alessandra Restifo, Junior Fellow for the Americas The Democracy Index measures the quality of the democracy in a country and is produced by the Economist Intelligence Unit and published on a yearly basis. Masv is also a bit different when it comes to pricing. Rather than a subscription model, Masv is a pay-as-you-go service. SocialFolders is both an application and a Web service: You download a component to your desktop, which creates a SocialFolders folder that you can access via Windows Explorer. I have photos stored on Facebook. Or I could just turn to SocialFolders, a service that offers an idea that's so simple–it syncs the content you have on your social sites to your desktop–I have to wonder why someone didn't think of it before. It's designed for videos, large graphics, and other types of media that are not email-friendly sizes. There is no limit on upload size or upload speed. This article will walk you through several of the best ways to transfer large files online. We will also suggest a few ways to make shuffling huge amounts of data easier. WinRAR and 7zip are both well-known not just for their storied history, but also because of the memes. Evaluate the best ways to transfer large files online and choose the one that's right for you. The downside is that it also loses something in the process. Expert advisers and regional specialists then vet the analysts' conclusions. It also lets you access your friends' photos and files (as long as their privacy settings allow you to do so), and to create an offline copy of these documents, too. The company does note that most of the photo-sharing sites it supports lets users download photos in full resolution, though. The Data The Freedom in the World report is composed of numerical ratings and supporting descriptive texts for 195 countries and 15 territories. External analysts assess 210 countries and territories, using a combination of on-the-ground research, consultations with local contacts, and information from news articles, nongovernmental organizations, governments, and a variety of other sources. You can use SocialFolders's Web interface to determine how much information you'd like access to (all of your Facebook albums, or only a select few, for example), and the content you've chosen will be automatically downloaded to your desktop. For each country and territory, Freedom in the World analyzes the electoral process, political pluralism and participation, the functioning of the government, freedom of expression and of belief, associational and organizational rights, the rule of law, and personal autonomy and individual rights. The final product represents the consensus of the analysts, advisers, and Freedom House staff. What you need is a dedicated service for transferring files. Breaking a two-hour video into 30-minute segments might result in 4 different files, but those files will be much smaller than a single entity. This is a particularly useful trick for someone with a finicky internet connection; the last thing you want is for the file to almost finish its transfer before a dropped connection tanks the entire process. SocialFolders is not only limited to downloads: It lets you upload files to your social sites, too. You can see each countries' rank changing over the past decade in their visualization here: gapm.io/xdiviz18. SocialFolders supports Box, Evernote, Facebook, Flickr, Google Docs, Instagram, Photobucket, Picasa, SmugMug, Twitter, and YouTube. For the most part, there's no downside to using these services. The Freedom in the World Junior Fellowship program gives young researchers critical work experience in the democracy and human rights field. Compress Data By Zipping It There are multiple services available for turning a normal file into a .zip file.
